Hamsalekha to inaugurate Dasara Fest on Oct. 15: CM

Mysuru, Aug. 29 (BLU&DM)- Setting at rest the long speculation on who will inaugurate this year's Dasara festival, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah announced the name of the noted Lyricist and Film Music Director Hamsalekha at Chamundi Hill temple after offering prayers to Goddess Chamundeshwari here this morning.

Speaking to presspersons atop Chamundi Hill, Siddharamaiah said that Hamsalekha, who is popularly known as 'Nadabrahma' would inaugurate the Dasara festival atop Chamundi Hill on Oct. 15.

Pointing out that the Congress Government's ambitious 'Gruha Lakshmi' Scheme (Rs. 2,000 monthly financial assistance to woman head of every eligible family) will be launched in Mysuru tomorrow (Aug. 30), he said former AICC President and Wayanad MP Rahul Gandhi, AICC President Mallikarjun Kharge and other top Congress leaders will be attending the programme.

Maintaining that 'Gruha Lakshmi' is the fourth of the five pre-poll guarantees of the Congress which is being implemented in the State, Siddharamaiah said that the Scheme, which is being launched marking 100 days of the Congress Government, will benefit 1.10 crore families. Accusing the Centre of being responsible for rising inflation and soaring prices of essential commodities, the CM asserted that the Congress Government in the State is implementing its five pre-poll guarantees with political will power and overcoming all challenges. The Gruha Lakshmi Scheme will cost the State Government Rs. 32,000 crore annually, the CM added.

Hitting out at Prime Minister Modi, who had said that the State would become bankrupt if the poll guarantees were to be implemented, he said the Congress has proved the PM wrong by successfully implementing the guarantees soon after coming to power.

Dead fish found floating at Lingambudhi Lake

▶ Lack of coordination between MCC, MUDA blamed for unabated sewage release

▶ Residents urge CM Siddharamaiah to call emergency meeting to save city lakes

Mysuru, Aug. 29 (MTY&BCT)- Hundreds of dead fish were found floating in the Lingambudhi Lake this morning, setting off alarm bells about deteriorating water quality due to continuous flow of sewage into the vast water body.

Once hailed as an all-season haven of crystal clear waters, Lingambudhi Lake's condition has severely declined over the years. The intrusion of drainage and sewerage water has transformed the Lake into a polluted entity, jeopardising the fragile ecosystem of its surroundings.

Morning walkers and residents were the first to spot the lifeless fish this morning. A growing crowd soon gathered at the lake premises as dismayed individuals pointed fingers at the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) and the District Administration.

They voiced concerns over the absence of coordination among these Government Departments, leading to the unchecked release of sewage from the three Rajakaluves that converge into the lake.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Life is a game, it is said, and that all creation is unwittingly participating in a lila, game, being played by the Creator. What type of games are these? Do these games have any resemblance to chess, the game that has attracted a lot of attention during the last few days?

Chess is a game involving strategy, a game in which 'nothing' is hidden, a game in which winning is not by chance. There are only two players, and winning needs threatening the opponent's king with inescapable capture.

In the Creator's lila, there is a design, although not a strategy; and nothing is hidden from Him. The board is "measureless," and each of us is "one more pawn who comes destined to be pushed," says Sri Aurobindo in his epic poem, Savitri. But there can be no winner or loser, for there is no other with whom the Creator has to compete. However, man has been designed for being more than just a pawn to be pushed around. Within each human being are planted two players. One of these, the surface self, apparently makes all the clever moves with its army of the body and the mind to protect its king, the Ego, from getting captured. The other, the deepest Self, moves rather silently with its army of Truth, confident that its king, Love, cannot be captured. The game begins when the self becomes aware of the Self. The discovery happens when a revealing "light falls on our vexed, unsatisfied lives."

At the end of life, the game ends with a little more self-knowledge than when the game began. The game is terminated but continues in the next life, and so it goes on life after life, until the self concedes defeat, happily and willingly. The person becomes one with his deepest Self. The separative Ego has been captured and replaced by Love inspired by identification of the self with the Self, the realisation of oneness of the self with all other selves. The individual continues participating in the game, but not as a helpless pawn.

The person starts the game with the feeling that he is one and ends with the realisation of being One. Between the two extremes is the phase of division, when the self plays a game designed by the Creator to take the individual from self-discovery through self-knowledge to Self-realisation. The game lasts several lives, but its end is fixed. How the individual games begin and how they end is the game being played by the Creator. Thus, there are games within a game, both having some features of chess.

Enjoy picnic by dangling 295 ft. over waterfall

Rio: A Brazilian adventure firm is offering an unique opportunity to enjoy picnic at a wooden table suspended above the thundering Cascata da Sepultura, in the State of Rio Grande do Sul.

The breathtaking experience recently went viral thanks to a short clip posted by an American couple who found it while looking for special things to try in Brazil. In the video, Christianna Hurt and her rapper boyfriend can be seen enjoying some snacks and a glass of red wine at a picnic table suspended on a bunch of metal wires high above Cascata da Sepultura.

The whole experience apparently lasts only 15 minutes and costs 450 dollars, but it's definitely something one will never forget. The two were strapped into safety harnesses and seated at a picnic table secured to a sturdy zip line. The table was then rolled out over the thundering waterfall where the couple unpacked their food and drinks.

Scientist wears bird head to befriend real birds

Tokyo: A Japanese scientist studying the languages of birds wore a giant bird mask on his head for an entire year in order to trick birds to allow him to approach them, but failed.

Toshitaka Suzuki, an associate professor at the University of Tokyo, decided to wear the 'disguise' for an entire year in order to get close to a nest of great tits without triggering their distress calls. According to Prof. Suzuki, his colleague wore the disguise for an entire year, but his experiment ended in failure. Whenever the great tits noticed him approaching, they started emitting their warning calls. The result was exactly the same when the man finally took out the headgear and tried getting closer to the nest.

Woes of a train traveller

Sir,

On a meeting, I had to go to Hyderabad for a day's visit with a few of my friends . Since there is a direct train from Mysuru to Kacheguda and back daily we thought it would be convenient to go and return by train, instead of flight whose timings were not convenient.

The train though named and charged for as Superfast is neither fast nor maintained clean. The onward journey by Train No. 12786 on Friday the 25th was ok running about half-an-hour late allowing us to be in time for the meeting on Saturday morning. But the return journey by the same train and coaches but numbered as 12785, it was horrendous as it started from Kacheguda 30 minutes late and accumulated delay by hours by the time it arrived at Dharmavaram.

While the train had to arrive at KSR Bengaluru at 6.35 am, it arrived at 9.45 am. Well as we expected the train was made to stand still to make way for Vande Bharat Express and Shatabdi racing down from Chennai to Mysuru one behind the other. So one more hour was added to the delay and we arrived at Mysuru at 1.40 pm, four hours late with empty stomach as no food was available to us anywhere.

Well the travellers of Superfast Express are lesser souls as compared to travellers of prestigious trains like Vande Bharat and Shatabdi. God should only save us with better alternative!

Hectic preparations on for 'Gruha Lakshmi' launch

Mysuru, Aug. 29 (RK&BCT)- With the Congress Government's anticipation of a grand inauguration for the 'Gruha Lakshmi' Scheme tomorrow (on Aug. 30), the city is abuzz with preparations at the Maharaja's College Ground.

The scheme vows to provide a monthly assistance of Rs. 2,000 to every female head of households. Congress strategists believe that the scheme's success could potentially yield around 3 crore votes in the next general election, consequently elevating Rahul Gandhi's stature in national politics.

Hundreds of KSRTC buses have been allocated to ferry people to the scheme from Mysuru, Mandya, Kodagu and Chamarajanagar and buses have been taken from all the KSRTC Divisions including the Mysuru KSRTC. Passengers and commuters who are planning to travel tomorrow and on Aug. 31, may be inconvenienced as there may not be buses.

The Government has announced that 1.9 crore women will receive the money in their accounts after the scheme is launched. Originally intended for Belagavi, the event was later shifted to Mysuru, citing Rahul Gandhi's scheduled visit to his Wayanad Constituency.

Rahul is set to arrive in Mysuru in a special flight between 11.30 am and 12 noon. His itinerary has not been made public yet and there are conflicting reports that say he will either come from Wayanad or New Delhi.

Over 1.5 lakh women beneficiaries are anticipated to participate in the event and every inch of the Maharaja's College Grounds has been occupied with pendals and chairs.

According to ground managers, it is not possible to accommodate one lakh people at the venue and the crowds will spill over onto the roads and nearby open spaces.

The venues and areas around the Maharaja's College Grounds are dominated by buntings and banners, highlighting the five guarantee schemes and the portraits of State and National leaders.

ISRO's Aditya-L1 solar mission set for launch on Sept. 2

Bengaluru, Aug. 29 (Agencies)- The Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) announced yesterday that it will launch its first spacecraft to survey the Sun on Sept. 2 at 11.50 am, days after it created history by reaching close to the south pole of the Moon from where its Chandrayaan-3 has been sending the first readings about the atmosphere and the surface.

The solar mission will be carried out by the Aditya-L1, which will be launched from the Sriharikota spaceport on ISRO's workhorse rocket, the Polar Satellite Launch Vehicle. After travelling 125 days to reach a distance of 1.5 million km from the Earth, it will stay put for an as yet unannounced duration of time.

"Aditya-L1 is the first space-based observatory-class Indian solar mission to study the Sun. The spacecraft is planned to be placed in a halo orbit around the Lagrangian point 1 (L1) of the Sun-Earth system, which is about 1.5 million km from the Earth," said a document released by ISRO, detailing the project.

"A satellite placed in the halo orbit around the L1 point has the major advantage of continuously viewing the Sun without any occultation/eclipse. This will provide a greater advantage of observing the solar activities continuously. The spacecraft will carry seven payloads to observe," it added.

The mission is ambitious for several reasons. First, is the challenge of stationing a craft at a Lagrange point, which India has not done before. Second, the nature of new insights that the spacecraft can bring. It will carry seven payloads, including four to observe the Sun's outermost layers.

Injured elephant calf dies at Bandipur Tiger Reserve

Mysuru, Aug. 29 (MTY&BCT)- A young wild elephant calf, struggling with a debilitating injury, has succumbed to its wounds at the Bandipur Tiger Reserve. The male calf, estimated to be around 3 to 4 years old, was found in a distressed state near the Kundakere Range, close to the Honnemarada Thittu area.

The incident came to public attention when a video circulated on social media showcasing the injured calf's valiant attempts to walk despite an injury on its left forelimb. The calf was accompanied by two adult elephants and a calf. It appeared to be struggling to cross a highway near the Bandipur Tiger Reserve.

Upon seeing the video, Bandipur Field Director Dr. P. Ramesh Kumar took immediate action, assuring prompt medical attention for the calf. Efforts were made to treat the calf's injury, with the hope of nursing it back to health.

The officers and staff tried to feed it with bananas and jowar but the calf did not eat. Despite the best efforts of the authorities and the veterinary team, the calf's condition continued to deteriorate as it had fallen into a ditch and had suffered grievous injuries.

Veterinary doctor Dr. Mirza Waseem provided thorough medical care and the calf was even released into a secure area within the wilderness. However, its health worsened and was not responding well to the treatment and had gone weak without food. The calf died yesterday afternoon.

A post-mortem was conducted and subsequently, as per regulations, the calf's carcass was left for scavengers to ensure the ecosystem's natural balance. Director Dr. Ramesh Kumar, ACF G. Ravindra, RFO D. Srinivas, NGO member R. Raghuram, DRFO B. Manohar, watcher Mahesh and Vishwanath were present.

Musings on ISRO and Christian Charity

Mahan Bharat has made it from Bhoolo-ka to Chandraloka. A glorious moment for Bharat, that is India.

It is an emotional and proud moment for all Indians, specially for those who are in the know of mythology, religion, astronomy and tales relating to the moon and also the politics that led to the establishment of Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) to recall and share anecdotes, episodes and individual contributions in establishing ISRO that made this mission possible.

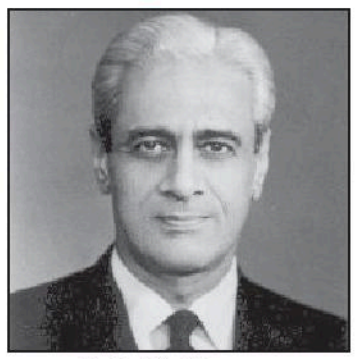
I have received a few WhatsApp messages of this kind soon after this successful moon mission. Here is one that recounts the national sentiment and support of the Christian community of Kerala when ISRO wanted a particular spot of land for its Thumba Equatorial Rocket Launching Station (TERLS):

On one fine Saturday morning in early 1960s, Rev. Dr. Peter Bernard Pereira — the then Bishop of Trivandrum — had a strange guest who had come to his house with a stranger request. The Reverend listened to him patiently but did not respond immediately. Instead, he invited the man to join the Mass the next day.

At the end of the Sunday Mass, the Bishop spoke to the assembled crowd, "My children, I have a famous scientist with me who wants our church and the place I live for the work of space science and research. Science seeks truth that enriches human life. The higher level of religion is spirituality. The spiritual preachers seek the help of the Almighty to bring peace to human minds. In short, what Vikram is doing and what I am doing are the same — both science and spirituality seek the Almighty's blessings for human prosperity in mind and body. Children, can we give them God's abode for a scientific mission?"

Rev. Dr. Peter Bernard Pereira

Dr. Vikram Sarabhai



Dr. Satish Dhawan

As narrated by Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam in his book 'Ignited Minds: Unleashing The Power Within India', the Bishop's question was greeted by an unsettling silence, and as Dr. Vikram Sarabhai waited eagerly, the church finally reverberated with a loud and hearty 'Amen' from all present!

A grateful Dr. Sarabhai and team promptly swung into action. The entire village of fisherfolks was relocated nearby, and a new Church was built for the faithful in 100 days flat. The erstwhile St. Mary Magdalene Church and Rev. Pereira's living quarters — located strategically on the magnetic equator and blessed with a narrow ribbon of very strong electrojet current (therefore making it ideal for studying the ionosphere) — thus became the Thumba Equatorial Rocket Launching Station where the first seeds of Indian space research were sown amidst infrastructural constraints unthinkable by rocket scientists anywhere else in the world.

As the eponymous lander 'Vikram' touched down near the lunar South Pole today with its aptly named rover 'Pragyan' (wisdom), here's remembering that distant weekend when two leaders, at two seemingly opposite ends of the ideological spectrum, converged on the same grand vision of the future so that one day the sky could no longer be the limit for India!

Another WhatsApp I received was about how ISRO came to Bengaluru and the connection between Indian Institute of Science (IISc.) and ISRO:

Did you know how or why ISRO came to Bangalore and the connection between the Indian Institute of Science and ISRO?

Lest we forget the historical forces that forge our present, it is essential to remember the past events and people behind the present.

We, the people of Karnataka, have our own share of credit for Chandrayaan and ISRO.

It is thanks to the two conditions put forward by Dr. Satish Dhawan, who was the Director of IISc, Bangalore, when Indira Gandhi invited him to head ISRO.

1. ISRO headquarters should be established in Bangalore

2. He (Dhawan) is allowed to continue as Director of IISc.

Indira Gandhi agreed to these two conditions and the rest is history.

Thus, Satish Dhawan and IISc brought ISRO to Namma Bengaluru. As the famous saying of Isaac Newton goes, "If I have seen further [than others], it is by standing on the shoulders of giants.

Be that as it may, what I perceive from these positive responses from the people who had the power to contribute to the establishment of an important scientific space centre for the good of our country, nay the humanity itself, is their sense of generosity, their commitment to a greater cause of the country and their belief 'India first,' rest are naught.

Reflect a while about the response of the then Bishop of Trivandrum (now Thiruvananthapuram) Rev. Dr. Peter Bernard Pereira and that of the Christian congregation that in a spirit of an offer to God gave the 'God's abode', the land of the Church, for a scientific mission.

Similarly reflect also about Dr. Satish Dhawan, who was the Director of IISc., Bengaluru, when he was invited by no less a Prime Minister than Indira Gandhi to head ISRO.

As I write this, I am reminded of another touching incident, not related to ISRO, where again a Kerala Catholic Christian Bishop helps a poorly paid Kerala Catholic Christian lecturer who gets a Fulbright scholarship of USA but has not got Rs. 10,000 he was to carry with him (in dollars) to US. It was in 1969.

The lecturer, Joseph Matchanickal, approached a well-known businessman, father of a student he had taught in high school. But his request was turned down. Joseph thought it was the end of his dream as all his attempts to raise the money failed and the last day to depart was only a few days away. Then, as by divine intervention, his friend Alian asked Joseph to approach the Bishop of the Catholic Church, Calicut, 80-year-old Italian by name Patronio. And the miracle happened. Where man had abandoned Joseph, God had uplifted him.

The Bishop listened to him patiently and asked a few questions. Without much ado, the Bishop called his Treasurer, a priest and asked him to take Joseph to the Bank and transfer the money. Joseph's life was made.

I guess, God or "the law of nature" (as Stephen Hawking, the renowned Physicist, describes God) never gives up on those who are brilliant, persevering and noble in their thoughts and deeds. The above example might suffice for now.

CM atop Hill

"We have set up two Commissions headed by former High Court Judges to probe the alleged scams of the previous BJP Government, including 40 percent commission charges, PSI recruitment scam and corruption in COVID management. The BJP has no moral right to come up with its charge-sheet against the Congress Government when the BJP leaders themselves are facing huge corruption charges," CM Siddharamaiah said adding that the Government had ordered a probe into BJP's scams.

He dismissed BJP's claims that the Congress Government was targeting BJP leaders with Lok Sabha polls in mind, as baseless and that the Government was determined to unearth only the truth.

Taking potshots at the Opposition parties for spreading false canards that Siddu and DKS maintained a distance between them, Siddharamaiah said in fact, the two will get much closer even as the Opposition parties continue to make attempts to separate them.

Siddu and DKS perform puja at Chamundi Hill

Earlier, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar offered special prayers to Goddess Chamundeshwari as fulfillment of their vow prior to Assembly election that the Congress would meet all its five pre-poll promises if voted to power.

Both Siddu and DKS, who had visited the Chamundi Hill temple on May 9, a day before the Assembly polls was held (May 10), had placed the guarantee cards before Goddess Chamundeshwari and made the vow to fulfill the poll promises.

Now, with the Congress Government coming to power and completing 100 days, the two leaders paid visit to the Hill temple ahead of Gruha Lakshmi launch tomorrow. They broke 'Edugais' (coconuts) before the temple and performed spcial prayers to the Goddess.

Atop the Hill, transgenders performed arati to D.K. Shivakumar for taking out 'drushti'. Shivakumar in turn gave them a monetary gift as a gesture.

A large crowd had gathered atop the Hill, since early morning upon coming to know of the CM's and DyCM's visit.

Congress leaders and workers were seen vying with each other to have a close glimpse and attract the attention of their leaders.

Apart from breaking coconuts, D.K. Shivakumar offered Rs. 2,000 to the offerings box in Chamundi Hill temple in the presence of CM Siddharamaiah.

Chief Minister praises service to society by Suttur Mutt

Siddharamaiah inaugurates 108th Jayanthi celebrations of Jagadguru Dr. Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Mahaswamiji

Mysuru, Aug. 29 (BLU&DM)- Chief Minister Siddharamaiah inaugurated the 108th Jayanthi celebrations of the late Suttur Mutt seer, Jagadguru Dr. Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Mahaswamiji, at Suttur Mutt located at the base of Chamundi Hill this morning. Addressing the gathering, Siddharamaiah expressed his pleasure at participating in numerous events organised by Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Swamiji and was honoured to be part of this year's Jayanthi celebrations as well.

He highlighted that Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji had personally urged him to attend the event, underscoring the Mutt's substantial growth and its national and international recognition, largely attributed to the tireless endeavours of the late Sri Rajendra Swamiji.

Siddharamaiah acknowledged the Mutt's significant contributions, especially in providing education to marginalised segments of society, aligning with the principles advocated by notable social reformers like Basavanna and Dr. B.R. Ambedkar.

Anna Dasoha and Dharma

He emphasised that the Suttur Mutt not only imparts education and provides meals (Anna Dasoha) but also promotes ethical conduct (Dharma). Apart from its substantial contributions in education, healthcare, technology, and other realms, the Mutt has also made noteworthy contributions in various other service domains.

Siddharamaiah encouraged self-reflection on personal contributions to society, highlighting the significance of leading a purposeful life over the length of one's existence.

Promoting a global human outlook, he stressed the importance of fostering compassion and humanity as central tenets of life. Given the modern emphasis on education, he underscored the need for education infused with empathy. Siddharamaiah asserted that it's vital to stand firm against societal wrongs rather than acquiesce, and he underscored the value of upholding the principles enshrined in the Constitution.

'Rajagurutilaka' book released

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, who unveiled the 'Rajagurutilaka' book containing poems dedicated to Shivarathri Rajendra Swamiji, penned by renowned poet Dr. Pradeep Kumar Hebri of Udupi, conveyed his gratitude for the immense respect shown to him by the Suttur Mutt. Recalling a brief story highlighting the contributions of Late Rajendra Swamiji, Simha lauded the Mutt's unparalleled initiatives in education (Vidyadaana) and social service (Dasoha).

Presiding over the event, District In-charge Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa acclaimed Rajendra Swamiji's monumental achievements and services to society. He remarked that Rajendra Swamiji's embodiment of principles championed by figures like Basavanna and Ambedkar earned him the title 'Rajagurutilaka.'

Mahadevappa further highlighted that Suttur Mutt is presently educating over 4,000 children from diverse backgrounds, a testament to its profound impact. Remembering how Rajendra Swamiji sold his personal jewellery to fund education for underprivileged children, Mahadevappa characterised the late seer as an enduring source of inspiration for future generations.

Dead fish found floating

"Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, his Deputy D.K. Shivakumar and a host of Congress leaders are in Mysuru for the 'Gruha Lakshmi' launch. This crisis within the CM's hometown calls for immediate action. An emergency meeting led by Siddharamaiah must be called to devise a lasting solution for the four endangered lakes of Mysuru: Lingambudhi Lake, Hebbal Lake, Kukkarahalli Lake and Karanji Lake," residents demanded.

Originally designed by the Wadiyars to facilitate rainwater entry and maintain the Lake's water balance, the Raja Kaluves now function as conduits for sewage, effectively poisoning the lake and disrupting its delicate ecosystem.

It is worth noting that the Lake was marred by a similar issue in 2019 when over 15 migratory Northern Shovelers were found dead due to the polluted waters. Unfortunately, no steps have been taken to impede or redirect the flow of sewage.

Spanning 250 acres, Lingambudhi Lake encompasses various survey numbers, with a significant portion declared as Reserved Forest area. Its diverse landscape of water bodies, shrubbery and bushes offers an ideal habitat for migratory and local birds.

The Lake's sustenance relies on three Raja Kaluves designed to facilitate the natural flow of stormwater. However, the inflow of sewage through all three Raja Kaluves — originating from Dattagalli, Botanical Garden and Lingambudhipalya sides — has disrupted this natural balance.

The Dattagalli side Raja Kaluve is a primary contributor to this issue, exacerbated by unresolved flaws in the underground drainage system at Janatanagar. These Raja Kaluves have also become depositories for waste generated from Kalyana Mantapas in Dattagalli, R.T. Nagar, Srirampura, Sharadadevinagar, Ramakrishnanagar, Ring Road and adjacent areas.

Added to this are discarded items such as sanitary products, plastic waste and more. Local residents have rallied for action, urging the MCC, MUDA, and the District Administration to intervene and halt the influx of drainage water into the Lake.

They further recommend the installation of grills to prevent plastics from entering the Lake through the Raja Kaluves, like the successful approach adopted at Karanji Lake.

WORD OF THE DAY

Chasten

Pronunciation: CHAY-sun.
Meaning: To cause them to feel sad or embarrassed about something that has happened; to make them feel more humble or restrained.
Origin: There's no need to fret if you have a hard time sussing out the finer distinctions between chasten, castigate and chastise, three verbs with overlapping histories and meanings. All three come (via different routes) from the Latin verb castīgāre, meaning "to punish," and all have been used to refer to physical punishment, but today are more likely to refer to a verbal dressing-down than a rap on the knuckles (or worse). However, while one is usually castigated or chastised by another person, one can be chastened by a humbling situation or experience.
Example: "AutoPacific asked people looking to buy a new vehicle about their interest in 11 different ... features, starting with a data plan for the car for a hypothetical price of $15/month. The results may chasten some of the investors demanding that the car companies keep traveling down this path. The most in-demand or desirable feature was Internet connection with a Wi-Fi hotspot.... But only 30 percent of people looking to buy a new car said they were interested in paying for their car's Internet access."

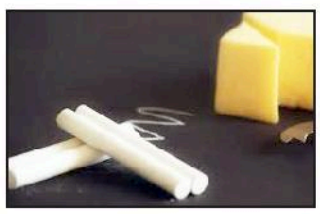
THE ODD WORD

Cafard

Depression; the blues.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

As different as chalk and cheese



Meaning: Two things that are very different from each other.
Origin: We have hundreds of phrases to indicate the similarity of one thing with another and similes like 'as alike as two peas in a pod' are commonplace. There are far fewer expressions that explicitly refer to the difference between things; 'as different as chalk and cheese' is the most commonly used. This is an old expression and the earliest citation is in John Gower's Middle English text Confessio Amantis, 1390: There must be many pairs of things that are more different than chalk and cheese. Tourist boards in several of the chalkland areas of the UK try to place the phrase's origin in their locality and allude to vague connections between chalk and the local cheese. None of these is convincing. So, how did the phrase come about? There must have been a time in the development of English when we had no standard phrase to express the idea that two things were 'as different as X and Y'. When someone coined such a phrase, and that someone may well have been Gower in 1390, clearly he needed candidates for the roles of X and Y.
